History of the Inn

In 1754 John Craig built a log home on his 400 acre site that became known as Hans Meadow. The Craig family operated a tavern at this site from the end of the Eighteenth century until 1845. The seventh President of the United States, Andrew Jackson, once stayed at the tavern. John and wife Mary Cox, continued to expand the size of the estate, and by 1782 had accumulated over two thousand acres. John Craig's house became the main crossroads for travelers and by 1792, more than 70,000 people used the Wilderness Trail to make their way to Kentucky. James Craig donated 175 acres of the estate in 1792 to form the town of Christiansburg. Members of the Craig family served as attorneys, congressmen, and tavern owners. Rich in History this 160 year old stately mansion has been home to only five owners, handed down in the Craig Family until the death of Mary Sherwood Flagg in 1973. In 2002 John and Kathy Drummond became the fifth owners of the home, turning the stately Mansion into a Bed and Breakfast. John and Kathy now offer their guests the elegance of a 19th century mansion as well as the convenience and technology of a 21st century home.

You have raised the expression 'bed and breakfast' to new heights! Thank you for a great place to get together with our brothers and sister. We cannot think of anything not provided! We think the inn should be renamed Little Heaven at Hans Meadow!

We both found your Inn to be charming, romantic, elegant and graced with Southern quaintness and hospitality. Your incredible breakfast would rank in competition with any Chef! I hope more of your visitors try out the massage package you put together—what a great idea! I've stayed at B & Bs all over the U.S. and in Europe and by far my most relaxing and pleasant experience was at your Inn. We will be back soon to visit again!—Larry and Di, Laser Logics, Inc.

My husband and I had our wedding at this inn. It was incredible, to say the least. The grounds are beautiful and the innkeepers were so easy to work with and helped in any way they could. People had an amazing time at our wedding and we can attribute much of that to the hard work of the innkeepers. I felt at home the entire weekend and so did all of our guests. Simply amazing!
